LONG LINE OF NEIGHBORS — Forty-six neighbors put their plowing equipment to work for 1½ hours Thursday and did 120 acres of spring plowing for Henry Elliott, 10 miles west of Hutchinson, Kan. Elliott, his wife, Vera and a daughter, Rita, 9, are hospitalized with serious burns from an explosion and fire that destroyed their farm home March 21. Their 5-year-old son died of burns.

Capital Punishment Plan Is Before Legislature Again

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
News Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The old emotion-charged question of capital punishment—an issue as hot as the electric chair on which it centers—has returned to haunt the Ohio Legislature.

It has become a perennial issue that traditionally causes more smoke than fire. No one is sure it will do more than that this year, but the old coals are being raked and fanned with vigor.

The House Judiciary Committee will hand to a subcommittee Tuesday the thorny task of trying to put together a single proposal from among four aimed at banning or lessening the use of the death penalty.

Although the odds are heavily against legislative enactment of a bill to kill capital punishment, one resolution under consideration has a couple of things working in its favor.

May Go Before Voters
The resolution seeks to put the death penalty question before Ohio voters in November as a constitutional amendment. Two factors could help push the issue onto the ballot.

First, the author of the resolution is Rep. Edmund G. James, R-Noble, chairman of the Judiciary Committee and one of the most persuasive and highly respected members of the legislature.

It was James who almost single-handedly steered the controversial Sunday closing law proposal through the House last against a number of amendments.

Second, history shows that with only two exceptions, Ohio legislatures have for the last 128 years shied away from making the death penalty determination themselves. The exceptions were in 1850 when the Senate passed an abolishment bill and in 1949 when the House squeezed one through. But both of those bills died in the opposite house.

Easy Way To Get Off
Placing the decision in the hands of the people is considered by many legislators an easy way to slide off an extremely uncomfortable hook.

On the other hand, there is strong feeling among some lawmakers that the legislature should not shirk its responsibility for making and changing the laws. If enough feel that way, the three-fifths vote required to put the issue on the ballot could be the biggest road block if James' resolution gets to the floor.

Ohioans voted to retain capital punishment in 1912 by a margin of 44,540 votes. That was before woman's suffrage, but no one is willing to say that the feminine vote would change the outcome this year.

James, however, thinks it's time to get some sort of determination on the issue.

"I can't say the chances are any better this year," he said. "But after hearing these same arguments over and over, you begin to wonder if we can continue to hear from these people who feel so strongly about it and then walk away from them."

The arguments to which James refers are packed with statistics which each side claims as proof for its case. One traditional argument—that capital punishment in any form is morally indefensible—has been quietly bypassed in debate this year.

Is It A Deterrent
The central question, which never has been answered to everyone's satisfaction, is whether it is more of a deterrent than life imprisonment.

Two eloquent opponents of capital punishment told the committee that Michigan, which abolished capital punishment 116 years ago, has a lower incidence of murder than Ohio.

Rusk, Dobrynin Confer Today

Talks Resumed on Berlin Differences

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin meet today for the second in their current series of talks on East-West differences over Berlin.

The meeting comes a day after Russia announced at Geneva its readiness to accept installation of a Moscow-Washington direct wire for use in any future war-threatening crisis. It was considered possible that Rusk and Dobrynin might touch on arrangements for technical negotiations on setting up this unprecedented link.

Rusk's Attack Is Criticized By Dems, GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk's head-on attack against congressional slashers of foreign aid may—in the view of both friends and foes of the program—turn out to have been a tactical blunder.

Both camps indicated his bold charge may draw more fire on the program, instead of diminishing it.

Opening six to seven weeks of hearings on the foreign aid authorization bill Friday, the usually diplomatic Rusk shot this blast:

"There is nothing that the Communists want more than to see the 'Yanks go home'...If we Yanks come home, the Communists will begin to take over. Why any American would want to cooperate with that global Communist strategy is beyond my understanding. But that is what sharp cuts in our foreign aid programs would mean."

Said Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., who leads the fight to slash the foreign aid funds each year: "Congress will never give him a dollar in foreign aid if he makes statements like that." Passman is chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee which handles aid funds.

It was learned, meanwhile, that Passman arranged a quiet meeting this morning at his office with Gen. Lucius Clay, head of a presidential committee which recommended tightening up of the foreign aid program.

Rusk was scheduled to fly to Paris tonight for a meeting opening Monday of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization and for talks with French President Charles de Gaulle and other Western European leaders, including West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder.

While Southeast Asian defense problems will dominate the discussions in the SEATO conference, Rusk is certain to discuss German and Berlin problems with Schroeder. He is expected to talk over with De Gaulle U.S.-French differences on European policy, although the State Department described Rusk's session with the French leader as a courtesy call.

Friday night, Rusk held a 45-minute conference with De Gaulle's ambassador here, Herve Alphand. The envoy said later that they had covered Berlin, the North Atlantic alliance, the European Common Market and SEATO.

Alphand also told reporters that France favors an "expansionist" Europe rather than an "inward-looking" European organization. He declared that the French government had taken the lead among the six Common Market nations in promoting development of policies for lowering trade barriers between the Common Market and outside countries such as the United States.

The proposed "hot line" between Washington and Moscow was suggested by the United States as a way of providing high speed communication which might be useful in avoiding war by accident in some international crisis.

4 Hurt In Mishap At Damascus

A Beloit youth and a Tuscarawas County sailor and his fiancée were among four persons injured in a two-car crash Friday night at 11:45 in Damascus.

Hospitalized were the drivers of the cars, Gary Lee Visi, 17, of RD 1, Beloit, and Marvin Bartles, 25, of New Philadelphia and the U. S. Naval Base, Philadelphia. Visi, a West Branch High School senior, has lacerations of the right ear, severe concussion and a possible fractured skull.

Bartles received lacerations of the forehead, a possible fractured nose and possible concussion.

Both are listed in fair condition at Salem Central Clinic.

Others Are Treated

Treated at Central Clinic and released were Bartles' passengers, Miss Charlene Edwards, his 21-year-old fiancée from New Philadelphia, and Miss Louise Dessecker, 23, of New Philadelphia.

Miss Edwards had a fracture of the left foot and lacerations of the left leg. Miss Dessecker suffered a bruised left arm and hip.

The Lisbon post of the State Highway Patrol, which still has the accident under investigation, reports Visi was going north and Bartles west when the mishap occurred at the intersection of Routes 62 and 534. There is a blinker light at the intersection.

In an earlier Friday mishap at 8:25 p.m. Bruce E. Zimmerman, 36, of Canton escaped injury when his car struck a deer about two miles south of Salem on County Rd. 400. Moderate car damage resulted.

Headless Body Of Olympic Skier Found

RENO, Nev. (AP)—The mutilated, headless body of Sonja Meckaskie, 24, a former Olympic skier for Great Britain, was found in her duplex apartment late Friday.

Police said the girl's head had been cut off and her nude body stuffed in a chest.

Officers roped off the area around the apartment. No suspect had been found, police said.

The slaying was discovered after a babysitter, who was caring for Miss Meckaskie's one-year-old son, became concerned when the mother failed to pick up the child. Officers believed the woman had been dead since sometime Thursday night. Miss Meckaskie was divorced.

She competed in the Alpine events in the 1960 Winter Olympics at nearby Squaw Valley, Calif.

Church Addition Begun By Damascus Friends

Work is underway at Damascus Friends Church for a dual - part addition which will practically double the size of the present church building.

The addition, for which excavation began in mid-March, will include a 40-foot extension to the west and a 16-foot extension to the east. Most of the new construction will be of stone and red brick, complementing the white frame building which has had two previous additions, one as recently as 1957.

At a recent church Monthly Meeting, members voted to request authorization of the Columbiana County Common Pleas Court to borrow $70,000. The 360-member congregation has collected approximately $30,000 toward the new addition work, and fundraising is continuing.

According to Rev. Edward Escolme, pastor, it is expected the ROAD TO A&P PLANT SITE MADE READY—Preliminary grading has been completed by Columbiana County Engineer Charles Snyder's crews on the new 24-foot road which will lead to the site of the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company's food processing plant. The view above is looking west toward the site. The road, which borders the Pennsylvania Railroad's main line, will be brought to grade after the sewer line culvert under the tracks is installed. The railroad has furnished the elevation for the switch track to the plant site. The roadway will be given a subbase and then paved for a distance of 1,200 feet, although the county has the right-of-way to eventually extend the road as far west as the Depot Road.

Liberal Victory Seen In Canada Voters May Oust Diefenbaker Monday

TORONTO (AP) — Canada's weary political leaders plunged into the final round of their stormy election campaign today with all signs pointing toward a Liberal victory over Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker's Conservative Party.

Liberal leader Lester B. Pearson planned to wind up with a tour of the Ottawa area where he will cast his vote in Monday's election. Diefenbaker boarded his special train for a whistle-stop swing through 11 Western Ontario towns.

Pearson scored a political triumph Friday night when more than 16,000 enthusiastic supporters turned out to hear him speak in Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens. He said it was the largest political rally in Canadian history.

Pearson told the cheering crowd that his hour had come—his hour to be prime minister of Canada at the head of a strong, stable majority government.

Political observers said Pearson was at his best in the 40-minute speech, which struck hard at Diefenbaker's defense policies and his attacks on the United States. In a speech at Brantford, Ont., the prime minister called on a crowd of 1,500 to support him in Monday's election on his "Made in Canada" policy.

"Let us decide Canada's future be determined in Canada," he said "and that Canadians will determine it."

U.S., Britain Keep Eye on Cuba Exiles

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Elusive Cuban exiles kept U.S. and British forces hopping today to rid the Keys of Florida and the Bahamas of guerrillas bent on harassing Cuban prime minister Fidel Castro.

British marines combed lonely Williams Cay, 7½ miles southwest of Nassau, for munitions or other supplies believed cached there by unidentified men who fled at their approach.

Reinforced air and sea units of the Miami-based Seventh Coast Guard District watched for sneak departures by innocent-looking small craft which often have proved to be carrying heavily armed anti-Castro fighters. Nodding peacefully at a Miami duck was the 33-foot motor boat Violynn III. It arrived Friday with its crew of 17 in the windup of a cruise that started as a Cuba raid and bogged down in Bahamas detention and a Nassau-to-Miami voyage shadowed by Coast Guard Eilers—until they lost the little ship in darkness.

The only English-speaking member of the crew said the Violynn III rebuffed a Coast Guard cutter captain's demand that the raiders allow their boat to be boarded near the edge of Bahamas territorial waters.

Jerry Buchanan, 24, of Miami, was quoted by his brother, Jim, Pompano Beach Sun Sentinel newsmen, as saying that Evelio Duque, commanding the Violynn III, had him reply that in no case would boarders be permitted on the little craft, but that it would obey the cutters request to proceed toward Miami.

Two U.S. citizens in the crew were questioned and released by immigration officials.

"I have plans to keep fighting communism and if this means fighting the Cuban regime, yes," Buchanan told newsmen.

Sebring Man Finds Tax Bill Too Low

SEBRING — Herman Schmid of 1095 S. 15th St. is an honest man, as all of his friends know.

However, when the dairyman's property tax statement came from the Mahoning County auditor's office, Schmid drove to Youngstown to point out that his taxes were too low.

As the result of a clerical error, Schmid's usual tax was billed as being $80. County Auditor Stephen Olenick thanked Schmid and accepted an additional $65.

Feud Near End, Loyal Forces Say

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—One by one rebel navy officers placed themselves under arrest today as Argentina's faltering revolution eased into its fifth day.

Nothing was heard from the four retired military men who led the revolt to oust President Jose Maria Guido and stop elections. And diehard rebels vowed to continue the uprising.

But loyalist forces pressed their advantage and the end seemed only a matter of time. The loyalist high command reported the country completely under control and "peaceful and calm."

A 25,000 man loyalist force stood ready to strike at Puerto Belgrano, no naval base, last stronghold of the navy rebellion, 350 miles southeast of Buenos Aires, unless the navy commanders submitted to truce terms.

Adm. Jorge Palma, commander of Puerto Belgrano, and Adm. Guillermo Perez Piton, who heads the crack marine corps, both gave themselves up to loyalist army officers at Bahia Blanca, 18 miles from the naval base.

An estimated 150 officers and men were reported under guard at Bahia Blanca, including five high-ranking naval officers. Officers of naval schools also turned themselves over to army authorities.

AP correspondent Robert Berrellez reported from Bahia Blanca that the army planned to fly the prisoners to Buenos Aires today.

Other rebel officers fled across the River Plate to seek asylum in Uruguay.

But various rebel sources claimed the uprising is not over. They refused to recognize as their spokesman Rear Adm. Eladio Vazquez, commander of the fleet, who worked out cease-fire terms with loyalist leaders. "We have not agreed to cease activities," a rebel source said.

The rebels launched their revolt Tuesday, hoping to remove Guido's year-old regime and block elections for president and congress June 23.

Military leaders feared exiled dictator Juan D. Peron's followers, allowed by Guido to run for office, would win control of the country. It was Argentina's third military uprising in slightly more than a year and took an unofficially reported toll of 31 dead and 58 wounded.

8-Year-Old Boy Blamed In Hotel Fire

BOSTON (AP) — A slender, frightened eight-year-old boy who told police he liked to hear the "fizz sound" of matches, has been charged with causing the Sherry Biltmore Hotel fire that cost four lives a week ago.

The youngster was committed to Metropolitan State Hospital in suburban Waltham for mental tests. The order was issued Friday by Juvenile Court Judge John J. Connelly after police charged the boy with delinquency by reason of arson.

Because of his age, Massachusetts law prohibits publication of his name.

The boy, whose mother has the role of a nun in "Sound of Music," admitted playing with matches in a sixth floor room, police said. It was in the same sixth floor room that investigators decided the fatal fire started last week.

"I like to strike matches because I like to hear the fizz sound," he told police.

The youngster's story to police told of getting matches from the night desk clerk about 10 p.m., March 28, with the explanation his mother wanted them.

A Lenten Message

Take a Long Look

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

It is reported that in 1865 a colored lady lifted her little grandchild so that he might see the body of Abraham Lincoln, and said, "Take a long look, honey; he set you free."

Perhaps this is the most important fact to recognize out of these Lenten days. We miss the time to think, to understand and to take a long look.

Too much of life bursts in upon us every day, making it difficult to judge what is important and what is shoddy, what is valuable and what is unimportant. It is a cliché of history that too often "the things that matter most are at the mercy of the things that matter least."

SO IT ALWAYS brought me up short as I passed a gray stone wall in Washington, D. C., and saw again the symbol of the Christ on the cross and underneath the words, "Is it nothing to you who pass by?"

The whole meaning of Lent is understood in the dimensions of the word "love." These have been days to reconsider the fact that the final story of life is not going to be told in terms of political power or prestige.

In the end, there are still the ultimates of God to understand. The cross can mean little to those who take a long look, unless there is an understanding of the love that held Christ there. Then, it is not just a place of death but the witness that "God so loved the world."

WE MODERN persons need to take a long look at the word "love," lest we allow it to become meaningless in an age which ought to understand it.

Or from this vantage point, take a long look at integrity. The business of believing in a cause and then expressing those values in the whole of life is a virtue requisite to an age of automation. Once upon a time, the failure to screw on a bolt might make a life dangerous to one person trying to ride a bicycle. Now it becomes the measure of life or death for hundreds of passengers on an airplane.

Or here is forgiveness, a peculiarly important word for our time. Misunderstood as a sentimental forgetting of old wrongs and hurts, it needs to be reclaimed as the ability to restore the old relationship. When I take a long look at this love of God toward me as a person, I am under new compulsion to think of my neighbor as members of the family instead of competitors.

No Code of Ethics For Congress

A compulsory code of ethics for U.S. representatives and senators might be a workable idea, but if needed to be put into effect at this time it already would be too late.

It is not that late. There is no need to try to compel what could be done voluntarily by members of the House and Senate.

The few who would not manifest good faith of their own could not be depended on to live up to a compulsory code of ethics anyway. If their honor as trustees of the Republic depended on being forced to be honest, it wouldn't be worth the effort.

One thing above all others should appeal to Americans who serve in Congress and stress the objectivity of appointees in the executive department.

This is to declare their own objectivity.

EVERY representative and senator should welcome the privilege of voluntarily declaring all interests that might prejudice his judgment. Thereafter, he should abstain from voting on issues affecting these interests.

This would be far less severe than the rule imposed by Congress on executive department appointees that makes them sell stocks and get out of partnerships that might develop a conflict of interest with their duty.

It would not be compulsory. Any representative or senator willing to declare in his campaign he would not list his interests and was elected anyway would have the option to do so.

But those who made an open book of their holdings would do more to elevate the status of Congress than could be done in any other way.

IF, ON TOP OF that, they cultivated the practice of listing their assets upon coming to Congress and when they left, the prestige of Congress would rise so high the whole world would marvel.

Fortunately, Congress is not in enough trouble to justify anything so radical as this approach.

The American people's faith in its national legislature is not shaken easily and never shattered. The institution of Congress is secure, regardless of the behaviorisms of a few members who betray their trusteeship of the Republic.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

President Kennedy told news- men Wednesday to look back at the period between 1938 and 1960, when the Eisenhower adminis- tration was in power, and they would find a high unem- ployment rate, the largest peacetime deficit and the biggest outflow of gold.

David Lawrence mentioned that the Democratic party had a majority in both houses of Congress during that same period. After all, the national legis- lature has to vote the money that's spent by the government and also decide on the tax rates.

Congress, therefore, is primar- ily responsible for any deficits. Likewise, the outflow of gold was due then, and is due today, to the large grants and loans for "foreign aid." This also is basic- ally the responsibility of Congress.

The Democratic Party has had a majority in the Senate and House ever since 1932 with the exception of the period between 1946 and 1948 and between 1952 and 1954. Thus, for a total of 28 out of the last 30 years, the Democratic Party has been in charge of law-making and, espe- cially, the appropriation of public funds.

As for the unemployment rate, which has declined only slightly during the present administration, the responsibility definitely rests on the Democratic Party in Con- gress. For Congress, year after year, has refused to broaden the antitrust laws to regulate, if not abolish, the labor-union monopol- ies which today push up the wage rates and force the squeeze in profits that brings unemployment.

THE KENNEDY administration, moreover, has not made a single recommendation to Congress thus far to deal with the abuses of "collective bargaining" and the violations of the "civil rights" of those workers who refuse to join a union or wish to cross a picket line and work.

The President's reference to the prevailing unemployment rate and that of the preceding administra- tion was made on the same day that the secretary of labor, W. Willard Wirtz, said to a news con- ference at Rochester, N.Y., that "last year, some 19 million man- hours were lost because of strikes, but in that same year, 900 million manhours were lost due to un- employment."

He declared that the strike pic- ture is comparatively rosy. Wirtz sought to give the impression that the labor unions are not in the least responsible for the unem- ployment situation in America and that there is no connection be- tween the unemployment problem and the behavior and policies of union leaders.

The secretary of labor didn't mention that every year numerous employers go out of business be- cause, though unable to pay high- er wages, they cannot afford cost- ly strikes and consequently must surrender to the wage demands which unions uniformly impose throughout an industry.

This means that, while the larg- er businesses are able to main- tain themselves, the marginal companies are forced to the wall, and unemployment is the result.

The arbitrary power of trade unions which has been exercised to extort high wage scales, ir- respective of whether an employ- er can afford them, is funda- mentally responsible for the high rate of unemployment today.

The Democratic Party has avoided this issue for the last 30 years. It was a Republican Con- gress which in 1947 secured the revision of the one-sided Wagner Act passed in 1935. The new law, known as the Taft-Hartley Act, was vetoed by a Democratic president but was passed over his veto by the Republican Congress.

THE ABUSES which have since arisen, even under the Taft-Hart- ley Act, and which urgently need correction, have been largely ig- nored by the Democratic Congress in the last eight years.

There is no evidence, either, that the labor committees of the House or Senate in a Democratic Congress will ever take up the subject as long as a substantial number of senators and repre- sentatives are elected with the aid of campaign funds furnished by the labor unions in defiance of the spirit, if not the letter, of the federal Corrupt Practices Act.

Secretary Wirtz seems to think a remedy for unemployment will be found in the further develop- ment of the Youth Employment Act and in an extension of the Manpower Development Program, as well as in an enlargement of the vocational, education and area redevelopment projects.

But all this merely means a throwback to the 1930s, when "made work" by the government itself under the works projects administration — or the WPA, as it became widely known — was in vogue. It didn't cure unem- ployment then, and it will not do so now.

There is only one way to create new jobs, and that's by making it possible for private business to earn a profit while it pays fair, but not exorbitant, wages.

This can come about when la- bor-union monopolies are deprived of their power to fix wage costs throughout an industry. The alternative is socialism and state capitalism, which are the fore- runners of communism.

The American people every two years can express themselves at the polls. Their next opportunity to elect an anti-radical Con- gress — and one that doesn't owe its election to the campaign funds of the labor unions — is in No- vember 1964.

History Today

Today is Saturday, April 6, the 96th day of 1963. There are 269 day left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1893, the longest boxing match in history was fought in the Olympic Club at New Orleans. Referee Jack Duffy halted the fight between Andy Bowen and Jack Burke in the 110th round after 7 hours, 9 minutes. Duffy declared the bout to be no contest.

On this day: In 1789, the first Congress under the U. S. Constitution held its first session in New York City and elected George Washington president of the United States. In 1814, Napoleon abdicated the thrones of France and Italy. In 1908, Cmdr Robert Peary discovered the North Pole. In 1945, President Franklin Roosevelt named Edward Stettin- ius as temporary chairman of the San Francisco Conference of the United Nations.

'The Flowers Appear On the Earth; the Time of the Singing of Birds Is Come, And the Voice of the Turtle is Heard In Our Land.'

99% Purity Not Enough

By VICTOR RIESEL

CHICAGO
Bombs bursting in air and the arsonists red glare have at times drowned out the electioneering shouts of the recent mayoralty campaign. The noise has reached into the White House and has disturbed the Kennedys.

But dramatic as is the mob's defiance of what passes for law and order, there is a more meaningful story being told by nervous witnesses before a mighty secretive grand jury in the federal building here.

Federal agents and attorneys have discovered a network of men who have been making millions of dollars in loans which come out of a big union's pension fund. This special probe has been concentrating on seven such loans.

The "middle men" have netted a cool million dollars in kick- backs and finder's fees on just these seven placements. This network now under investigation reaches from Chicago to New York, Washington, and into Mi- ami.

INDICTMENTS ARE expected in 90 days — probably on charges of violation of the income tax laws. The bird dogs for the men who really have the power to place millions of dollars in loans from these workers' pension funds, have attempted to conceal their receipt of the kickbacks and find- er's fees. Some of the finders are tied to the toughest of the under- world.

After this probe the Justice De- partment is expected to open sim- ilar investigations in other cities.

Few federal law enforcement crackdowns could be more sig- nificant. Pension funds should be sacred trusts. In them is the hope of the aging worker. In them is more money than in the com- bined gold reserves of the NATO countries — and that includes the United States. They are so vast that the President has asked for a special report on the impact of the funds on the nation.

A few days ago the Labor De- partment reported the latest avail- able figures. As of 1960 there was well over $52 billion in private welfare and pension benefit plans.

Most of these funds are meticu- lously administered. Billions are in the careful hands of big in- surance companies. Other billions are handled scrupulously by banks. But so vast is the total pension fund sum and so rapidly is it growing that it soon will be the nation's greatest cache of liquid assets. No chances should be taken.

IT IS ESTIMATED that the pen- sion funds increase by $4.5 bil- lion a year. This means that the pension and welfare funds now to- tal well over $61 billion.

Industry contributes over $11 bil- lion a year into 120,514 funds now on file in the Labor Department. Over $7 billion is paid out yearly in benefits. There just isn't any similar financial operation in this world — either side of the iron and bamboo curtains.

And it's just in its diaper stage. In 10 years these funds will top $100 billion.

What happens to all this money? Some of it is managed by joint labor-industry trustees. Some of it is administered by man- ment.

How is it invested? There is a growing trend to placement in mortgages. Latest available fig- ures reveal that over $15 billion is in corporate bonds. There is almost $12 billion in common stock, which has voting rights in companies. There is some $600 million in preferred stocks.

CONSIDERING the condition of my own exchequer this is awe- some. There is at least $485 mil- lion in cash.

Government bonds aren't really in the running any more. The total in this form is $2 billion. There was a trend towards the stock market until recently. But then came the shakeout last May. Now here is an eagerness for mortgages. There now total over $900 million.

About $19 billion is in the hands of the insurance companies.

So the men who handle such funds must be antiseptically clean. The vast bulk of them are. But some are not. Some fund admin- istrators have permitted the money entrusted to them to flow into underworld operations in the mortgage field. Obviously the middleman in such an operation can make himself a bundle. But hiding it is another thing — as those before the Chicago grand jury have discovered.

That's fine. Ninety-nine per cent purity is just not enough where the working peoples' money and future are concerned.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Work Is for All

Dear Ann: As one of your pub- lishers I must disagree with one of your editors. I refer to the letter signed C. W. who objected to boys helping their mothers in the kitchen. The editor said kitchen work is for females.

As you so aptly put it, Ann, work knows no gender today. We have four boys in our family and it is clearly understood that they have to help with the "female" work because they cause so much of it.

Our boys never have objected to helping. They just grew up knowing it was expected of them. They are not mama's boys, nor do they show any signs that they will turn out to be "yes men" to women. Instead they are all-around kids who will be able to pitch in and help in any emerg- ency.

You may print this as evidence that the members of the Fourth Estate are divided on this vital point in boy-raising—R.G.K.

Dear R.G.K.: I'm not sure I enjoy being caught in the cross-fire between an editor and publisher yet, but I appreciate your support of my point of view. Thank you for writing.

Invite Them
Dear Ann: My fiancé and I are going to be married in June. It will be a formal wedding and my parents are going to a great deal of expense to make it elegant and perfect in every detail.

My fiancé is giving me a little trouble on the guest list. While he was in college he worked sum- mers on a truck. He became friendly with three roughneck truck drivers who are not his so- cial equals. (This is an under- statement.)

My fiancé insists that we invite these three characters to our wedding. I can't seem to talk him out of it. It's not that I am ashamed of them, Ann, it's just that I'm afraid they would be uncomfortable. They surely do not own formal evening clothes and I'd hate to put them to the expense of buying anything.

Since the bride's parents pay for the wedding I feel he should not make too many demands. Please settle this.—FLY IN THE SOUP.

Dear Fly: Even though the bride's parents pay for the wedding the bride and groom have to live together after the guests go home and it helps if they are on speaking terms.

Invite the truck drivers and don't worry about the expense of the evening clothes. They'll probably rent—like many of your fancier guests. P.S.: They'll probably behave better, too.

Law Is No Excuse
Dear Ann: I was waiting for a bus the other day and it was awfully windy and cold. A man who works in the same office building drove right past me and waved. I was shocked.

I hadn't been at my desk more than five minutes before the man telephoned me and said, "I sup- pose you think I'm an old manie for passing you up this morning so I want to explain. I never take passengers to work in bad weather because if we have an accident the passenger can sue me for all I'm worth."

I was dumbfounded. I had never heard of this. Is he right? It seems a great many people ride with friends and nobody worries about getting sue. Please explain.—FROZEN STIFF.

Dear Stiff: Laws vary from state to state on the degree of responsibility of a driver for his passengers. But this hardly qualifies as an excuse to pass up friends.

News Does Not Make Itself

It is too much to hope that the slam- bang investigation of news management in the Defense Department will change any preconceived ideas about news.

But it is not too much to hope that it may bring into clearer focus some half- formed ideas about how news is processed and distributed.

Contrary to an idea planted in the minds of the young by television, news is not what someone says in a televised "press conference" that is run through duplicating machines and distributed from coast to coast via newspapers, radio and TV tapes.

That is one small category of news—the public event.

A similar category is the "handout," a statement written in advance and passed out in duplicate.

These are not prime sources of news, however. They are contrived, secondary sources—contrived for the convenience of people who want to use the information media for their own purposes under their own terms.

Prime news sources are events that must be witnessed, comprehended, described and explained before they have significance. Some of the world's greatest events were not news because no one saw them, de- scribed them, explained them, or compre- hended them, like the descents of the Arctic ice cap.

Other prime sources of news are revela- tions that reporters make by piecing to- gether odds and ends of information that apparently are unrelated.

And there is the kind of news collected routinely by specialists using their accumu- lated skill to keep the public informed on matters that otherwise would be incompre- hensible—news of finance, politics and juris- prudence.

Unless the news media are careful in pre- senting their case for free access to reliable information, they may leave the im- pression that news is what the government says it is. They might get the idea that the fight between the news media and the Defense Department is over the depart- ment's right to lie about the news.

Not so. The fight is over it's right to lie about an event. News is what the news media dig out, not what public officials say.

form turned out to be more wrinkles in a tax law already so puckered in resembling nothing this side of the moon, disenchant- ment set in. We quit thinking about tax reform as a possibility. It was put back on the dream shelf.

U.S. News & World Report has turned our attention to it again with a description of a simple income tax. Its rates would go from 10 to 35 per cent. All income would be taxable—no exemptions.

Instead of exemptions, a taxpayer would get credits against his taxes. Thus, if a married man earned $4,000 and owed $400, he would get $300 credit on his tax and then would owe $100. Married couples over 65 would get a $500 credit.

Half the benefits from Social Security would be tax-exempt; there would be ab- solutely no other exemptions. Anyone could figure out his tax at a glance. The govern- ment's "take" would be $10 billion less than it is now, with the greatest relief going to people least able to pay.

There would be no need for specialists in tax avoidance. Everything would be above- board—no complications, no loopholes, no hanky-panky.

That would be tax reform!

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: If you want to know what I think, we should put somebody into orbit.

I do not have anyone in mind, unless I could have the privilege of getting rid of some contemporaries. But that is not what I am thinking about. I don't really want to get rid of anyone.

We need another national triumph. We need to win for a change. Our morale is sagging. Our national morale, that is, nothing is wrong with my morale or with your Aunt Effie's morale.

We are wise old birds whose morale doesn't need doctoring. Our confidence doesn't fluctuate up and down like a TV rating. We do not need to be reassured. We have faith.

Not everybody is lucky. Not everybody has faith.

That's why we need another astronaut. It would be just what the doctor ordered to make the national tail bushy. It would be though I shudder at what will happen when we have our first space accident. We'll really be mad at one another then. There will be a Congressional investigation.

I feel sorry for people who never knew what it was like to be the champions of the world, with no contenders in sight. Those were wonderful times. America had the highest living standards on earth. It had the most cars, the most telephones, refrig- erators, inside toilets, bathtubs, cookstoves and so on.

Its airplanes were the best. Its trains were the best, also its girls, its boys, its trans- portation systems, hospitals, highways and armed forces. No one could lay a hand on us in mass production or mass consumption. We were the berries.

Our self-assurance then would be restored. We could hold up our heads again and quit having sweaty palms.

I think this is why so many of us are yammering about balancing the federal budget. It's the hardest thing we can think of to do, so we'd like to see it done as a demonstration of prowess. Russia can't balance a budget.

Anyway, we need to get somebody in orbit so we can talk about something besides bickering and dicker. Even your aunt and I, philosophical as we are, can get a buzz right now out of watching the tulips and daffodils burst through the ground. That much, at least, is going according to plan.

Pass around our regards among the folks.

1962 Big Year for Vehicle Registration

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The year 1962 was a big one in nearly every category of motor vehicle registration, state Auditor Roger W. Tracy said today.

The total number of vehicles registered, revenues received, number of automobiles registered, house trailers registered and their revenues all were above the 1961 figures.

Only the number of truck registrations declined last year. However, truck license revenues increased.

Tracy said 4,781,824 vehicles were registered in Ohio in 1962, of that total 3,829,342 were passenger cars. The over-all registration was 185,389 over 1961 and there were 124,607 more passenger car licenses issued.

Total revenues from the licenses reached $79,219,099 or $1,662,226 more than the previous year.

HAYS REVEALS PLAN

WASHINGTON (AP) Relations between Canada and the United States seem to be deteriorating and an exchange of non-voting delegates might foster better understanding, Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, suggests.

Hays proposed in a resolution Thursday that such delegates should have the right to take part in debates in Congress and the Canadian Parliament. Hays' resolution would ask the President to undertake a study and make recommendations to Congress on the idea of exchanging delegates.

There is no precedent for such an exchange, but "it might be one way of at least making both countries more aware of each other," Hays said.

More Than 3,000 Cubans Enlisted In U.S. Services

WASHINGTON (P) — More than 3,000 Cubans are training in the U. S. armed forces, the Defense Department said today.

Most are refugees who fled to this country. Others are veterans of the unsuccessful 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion—men who were imprisoned by the Castro government and then released for return to the United States.

The Cubans will not be organized into any special unit but assigned to various Army, Navy, Marine and Air Force units as they complete their training at four bases.

The program, the Pentagon announced at the outset, was intended to:

1. Assist refugees who have encountered difficulty in getting jobs here.
2. To develop the Cubans, "skills and abilities by service" in the U.S. forces.

President Kennedy, at his news conference Wednesday, commented that 400 to 500 Cubans have joined the U.S. Army, identifying them as former members of the Bay of Pigs operation.

In his brief reference, the President did not refer to the fact that two programs now are under way and that the majority of the volunteers are average refugees.

The first program was started last September. It permits any Cuban national who qualifies under physical and other standards to enlist. By December about 1,700 were in training under that program.

In February, the Defense Department said it was making available a special military training program for both officers and men of the Bay of Pigs unit.

At present, 2,935 Cubans are training for ground force services, including the Army and Marine Corps.

On training for service in the Navy and Marine Corps are 21 officers and two enlisted men.

The Air Force has 28 Cubans in its training program—24 officers and four enlisted men.

THE FIVE DAYS

The Palms and the Cross were but five days apart!

On Sunday, down a road strewn with palms, Christ rode triumphantly into Jerusalem . . . and men hailed Him as their King.

On Friday He climbed the rugged slope of Calvary . . . and they nailed Him to a Cross.

How suddenly good turns to evil! How quickly we sometimes lose our vision of God!

The paradox of those five days is history's striking lesson in the importance of a constant faith. The faltering, hot and cold sort of religion made possible the Crucifixion!

Palm Sunday you'll be going to Church. In a quiet moment in the sanctuary remember those five days . . . resolve to worship EVERY Sunday, and to live your faith EVERY day.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Evelyn Fisher Bride Of Rev. A. Jay Althouse

At a double ring ceremony at 3:30 p.m. March 24 in the sanctuary of St. Paul Trinity Methodist Church at Elmore, Miss Evelyn Pearl Fisher, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Paul E. Fisher of Elmore, became the bride of Rev. A. Jay Althouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Althouse of Tower Road.

Rev. Paul E. Fisher officiated, assisted by Rev. Wesley Hougsted, pastor of Lamon Avenue Methodist Church at Chicago, Ill., at an altar decorated with vases of white gladioli and mums and with white cathedral candles at each end.

Vocal selections were presented by Rev. and Mrs. James Dale of Evanston, Ill., and Mrs. B. J. Hubbard of Gary, Ind., was organist.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess styled white peau de soie gown with front trimming of flat self fabric bows from the square neck to the skirt hem. Her finger-tip-length veil of silk illusion was caught to a pearl crown, and she carried a cascade arrangement of white fushia, mums, carnations and stephanotis.

Mrs. Robert Kauffman of Normal, Ill., served her sister as matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Floyd Stanley of Salem, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Peggy Gugler of Columbus.

The attendants wore street-length sheath dresses of varying shades of blue with nylon overskirts and matching net and velvet bows as headpieces.

Susan and Laura Kauffman, nieces of the bride, were flower girls in blue nylon organdy dresses trimmed with pink smoking. They carried white baskets of sweet peas and baby breath.

The rings were carried on white satin heart shaped pillows by Thomas Stanley and Jeffrey Althouse, nephews of the bridegroom.

Paul Althouse of Columbus was best man for his brother, and ushers were Floyd Stanley of Salem and David Fisher of Columbus, brother of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a brown crepe dress, and Mrs. Althouse's dress was of blue and pink print. Both wore corsages of baby orchids.

Miss Carolyn McCulloch of Evanston registered the 150 guests who attended the reception in the church social rooms immediately following the ceremony.

A white frosted, four-tier cake trimmed in blue centered the bride's table which was covered with blue nylon net over white linen. A Christogram, symbol of Christian wedding, topped the cake which was flanked with white spiral tapers in silver holders. An added touch was the bouquet of the attendants.

Out of state guests were from Indiana, Michigan and Illinois. The bride is a graduate of Taylor University at Upland, Ind., and is a student at Garret Theological Seminary at Evanston. She will be employed as a worker with girls by the Campbell Friendship House at Gary, Ind.

Appropriation Totals $472,184

Columbiana School Fund Set

COLUMBIANA — A $472,184 appropriation—$11,315 less than last year's $483,500—was adopted this week by the Columbiana Board of Education.

The decrease is due mainly to property reassessment and outside millage reduction from 11 mills to 9.7 mills.

$377,097 of the appropriation will be going for school personnel salaries and wages, with teacher's receiving $306,387.

Supplies, maintenance materials, equipment replacements, contract and open order service, fixed charges, capital outlay and general fund debt service will account for the remaining $95,087.

An additional $188,008 to be used for the bond retirement fund, lunch room fund, uniform supplies, auditorium and memberships in educational associations, has been appropriated outside the general fund, making a total of $660,193 in appropriations by the school board.

In other business Eldon Strausbaugh, physical science teacher, reported on the status of the physical science program and discussed the possibility of future improvements.

Beginning in the fall, Columbiana eighth grade students will be offered general science and biology will be added to the ninth grade curriculum, making it possible to add another science course to the present one, according to Strausbaugh.

The board has awarded the contract for a 66-passenger bus to Main St. Motors at $7,282.

Commander William Grate presided at the meeting and Edward Morse and Andy Parsley were appointed by Grate to serve with him on the Legion supervisory board.

Charles Trumbo and Allen Grate, who were elected squadron captain and adjutant, respectively, will serve as temporary officers until an election is held in June.

Any boy who is a son of a Legionnaire, is eligible to join.

THE ANNUAL State-Wide Eighth Grade Test, which covers the fundamentals of arithmetic, English, history, and science, was given to eighth grade students Friday morning.

The test, given each Spring, is principally used to gain greater knowledge of the student's skills at the time they enter high school.

A PANEL DISCUSSION featuring members of the board of gardeners, appointed by president Cliff Orr at a business meeting previous to the discussion, was held for members of the Columbiana Rose Society at the high school cafeteria Tuesday.

The club announces it will not continue with the June display of roses, but will have a Rose Show display at the Columbiana Street Fair in September.

Members were urged to attend the Buckeye District Meeting April 21 at Mansfield.

Mrs. Raymond Maurer was hostess.

KINDERGARTEN MOTHERS were shown a movie entitled, "Why Tommy Won't Eat," at their meeting Tuesday at Dixon School.

At the business meeting following the movie, plans for a Kindergarten Mother's tea were completed.

Salem Trims Campbell 65-53 To Open Track Season

Earley Wins 2 Weight Events

Quakers Are Strong In Distance Races

By MARK W. MILLER
News Sports Editor

Larry Earley garnered two first places in the weight events to give Salem assurance as the Quakers trimmed Campbell Memorial 65-53 in a dual track and field meet to open the season at Reilly Field Friday.

Coach Karl Zellers said at the conclusion of the meet, "Campbell Memorial has considerably improved over last year, and they should give anyone they meet plenty of trouble this season."

The Quakers will entertain East Liverpool and Wellsville in a triangular meet at Reilly Field Tuesday at 4:30 p.m.

Under the lights at Reilly Thursday Salem will play host to always powerful Alliance at 7:30 p.m. The gates will open at 6 p.m.

VETERAN BILL Beery didn't compete in the Campbell Memorial meet. He is busy checking out Oklahoma University as a possible college to attend.

Campbell excelled in the short distance events, winning the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 180-yard low hurdles and 880-yard relay.

John Zilske, Salem's sprint star, got off to a poor start and finished third in the century in 10.8 seconds. Don Hamner won the dash for Campbell as he broke the tape in 10.5.

Salem's John Tarleton, one of the hardest-working juniors on the squad, turned in a pretty fair time for the mile run despite the cold air. He negotiated the distance in 4:50.7.

Bill Carter, also a Salem junior pushed his teammate for three quarters of the race, fell back a little on the final lap and finished six seconds behind in second place.

TAD BONSALE, one of the Quakers' senior lettermen, grabbed the lead at the start of the grueling 440-yard dash and outtraced Gene Matchette of Campbell to the tape in 53.9 seconds.

Earley swept the discus with a throw of 120 feet, 10 inches. He, earlier in the meet, heaved the shot put 43 feet, three inches to give him 10 points.

Kirk Ritchie, a sophomore hurdle prospect for Salem, won the 120-yard high hurdles in 18.1 seconds and finished second in the 180-yard low hurdles. Ed Carwell took first place in the low timbers for the Red Devils in 22.6 seconds.

Joe Pezzuto leaped 20 feet, six inches in the broad jump, and cleared 5 feet, 4 inches in the high jump to give Campbell another two first places.

Zilske, Dave Taus, Dave Coy and Bonsale gives the Red and Black a speedy mile-relay crew as the four boys won this event by 50 yards in 3:41.2.

Tom Pim, another of the fine crop of Salem juniors, almost equaled his best time of last year, when he took the half-mile run in 2:10.3 seconds.

Trojans Capture Girls Junior Cage Title: Martin Is Top FS

Girls' basketball activity has taken over the spotlight at Salem Junior High School in recent weeks.

An after-school girls' inter-class basketball tournament was played after the seventh, eighth and ninth grade girls' gym classes had played a series of 12 competitive games involving 35 teams.

At the conclusion of the series, Captain Cindy Billie's Nawthings defeated the BBB's captained by Martha Minamyer, 18-15. The Telstars, captained by Pam Cabas, lost 13-7 to the PF's with Wanda Zeiler as captain.

These results brought about a semi-final battle which ended in a 19-17 victory for the PF's and earned them the right to play in the finals against the Trojans for the championship.

In a hard-fought contest, the Trojans caught fire in the third quarter and came from behind to win the tournament championship, 16-13.

THE FOLLOWING WEEK, 84 girls from grades seven through nine participated in the 10th annual Girls' Foul Shooting Contest after school in the gym. The girls shot a total of 25 shots in three rounds.

Susan Martin of 9G was the winner, making 15 baskets out of her 25 attempts.

Runner-up honors went to Janis Capel of 8B after she broke a three-way tie with Janet Weikart of 8H and Linda Kay Smith of 9J who each sank 13 of 25. In an additional round of 10 shots, the winner scored six while the other two girls made five and four.

Trophies were awarded to the winner and the runner-up award was given by Miss Virginia Snyder, girls' physical education instructor.

Beaver Boosters Set Election Of Officers

Former Duke Star Has 1 Stroke Margin At 139

Souchak Still Leads Masters; Nicklaus Is In Contention With Great Comeback

By MERCER BAILEY
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Pudge Jack Nicklaus, whose nicknames range from "Bob-Bo" to "Baby Dumpling," was the young man to watch starting today's third round of the Masters Golf Tournament. Although he and handsome Jay Hebert were one shot behind the midpoint leader, husk Mike Souchak, the 23-year-old Nicklaus held center stage after his dazzling comeback in the second round when a blazing putter carried him to a 6-under-par 66.

Souchak, a former end and place-kicker on the duke football team, didn't play the first 36 holes like a man who hasn't won a tournament in two years. His halfway chart was 69-70-139.

Nicklaus was 74-66 — 140 and Hebert 70-70-140.

Lowest Score In Tourney
The 66 Nicklaus threw at the field is the lowest score thus far in the 27th Masters and is only two shots off the record set here by Lloyd Mangrum 23 years ago—the year Nicklaus was born.

Souchak escaped a three-way deadlock when he capped his second straight steady round with an 8-foot birdie putt on 18.

Bo Winger, tied with Souchak at 69 after the first round, bogied the 18th and wound up with a 72 and 141 total, that put him in a tie for fourth place with late-finishing Ed Furgol, the lame-armed former Open champion who birdied two of the last three holes for a 71.

Par for the picturesque, testing Augusta National course is 36-36-72, stretched 6,850 yards over rolling woodlands and well-laced with water hazards.

Palmer, Player No Threat
Neither Gary Player nor Arnold Palmer, who with Nicklaus are the big names of current-day golf, was in a particularly threatening position starting the final two rounds. Player, who said he never got the one big shot to get him rolling, struggled to a 74 for 145—six strokes off the pace. Palmer, the defending champion, who managed a mild rally on the back nine despite a ragged game, had a 73 for 147.

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Leading scorers after 36 holes in the 27th Masters Golf Tournament over the 6,850 yard, par 72 Augusta National course:
Mike Souchak 68-70-139
Jay Hebert 70-70-140
Jack Nicklaus 74-66-140
Ed Furgol 70-71-141
Bo Winger 69-72-141

A word from THERON at the Country Store

The members of the Leetonia Ruritans are working on a project which I think is very worthwhile. They want a short cut to Salem by way of West Main Street in Leetonia. This would be a benefit to a lot of people both from Leetonia and Salem area. This project has been the dreams of good thinking people for many years.

In recent years Leetonia people have made a lot of good improvements in their town. I am told they have one of the best new school systems in this part of the country. There are a lot of real fine people in Leetonia. I say this for just one reason. I like to say what I think.

New Growth Of Technical Schools Urged

Holland W. Cameron, supervisor of the Salem School of Technology, and directors of the other nine Ohio technical schools have urged the creation of more schools in the state to train technicians and engineering aides.

In a conference with Warren H. Chase, State Director of Commerce, the 10 educators asked that technical schools such as those in Salem be expanded not only in number but in scope.

Chase, Governor Rhodes' appointee as chairman of the Committee on Post-High School Education, indicated he will present the matter to the Ohio Legislature for its consideration.

Cameron pointed out the needs of gearing the technical training program to meet the needs of area industry.

"We now have 90 enrolled and will graduate 67 on Aug. 16," Cameron told Chase, "but there is a dire need for more young men with this type of training." He added that the Salem school is certified in two courses—mechanical and engineering technology. All the upcoming graduates will have "ample opportunity for employment."

The local school supervisor said it is advisable to keep courses for technical schools on a definite college level. (The Salem School of Technology offer the highest caliber of courses of the 10 Ohio schools.)

The Salem School has been informed by the Ohio University Department of Engineering that credits from the local school will be readily accepted. "Even though credits are transferable," Cameron said, "the school has a 'terminal' program whereby graduates are ready for employment as technicians." The schools of technology should not be confused with a junior college which is a step to higher education, he said.

Although a few prospective graduates expect to continue their education, most will go into industry immediately.

Cameron also emphasized that the Schools of Technology can use only boys who are candidates for college. "The difference between a candidate for our technical school and the candidate for college lies merely in the difference in goals," he said.

Other schools of technological schools represented at the conference were Ashtabula, Cleveland, Willoughby, Barberton, Lorain, Canton, Mansfield, Springfield and Hamilton. Deans of engineering schools at Youngstown University and Ohio State University also were present.

A second similar conference will be held soon, Cameron reported.

Montgomery, Sam Oyer, Eric Reed, Bill Rist, Phil Shasteen, Farb Tinsely, Tim Tullis, Bob Wagner, George Zeller and Church Drakulich, and the managers, Bill Karnofel and Jim Brooks. Chuck Montgomery won the foul-shooting percentage trophy.

Honored cheerleaders were: Ninth graders Pam Field, captain, Sue Fritzman, Sarah Krichbaum, Polly Lease and Della Longworth; eighth graders Karen Beeler, Vicki Galchick, Peggy Huber, captain, Jeff Johnson, Trudy Nedelka and Bonnie Schneider.

Mrs. Robert Talbot of the Gold Star Auxiliary presented a citation to the Salem Junior High School alternates of the Student Council who served as Junior Red Cross representatives. Nina Martens, JRC chairman, accepted the citation.

JRC members at the junior high school collected two cartons of materials and $18 in cash for the veterans at Massillon Hospital. The materials are used by veterans as part of their therapeutic treatment, and the money is used to buy gifts for hospitalized veterans on their birthdays and holidays.

Students who served on the JRC committee were: Ninth graders Cindy Baillie, Dave Crowe, Larry Fester, Ed Gross, Candy Horning, Rosemary Kerr, Nina Martens, Doug Plastow, Karen Schiller, and Sandy Whitcomb; eighth graders Linda Beeler, Judy Coppock, Marilyn Edwards, Jeffrey Johnson, Ann Milligan, Eric Reed, Susan Smith and George Zeller; seventh graders Pam Cabas, Shelly Cody, John Goddard, Hollie Helm, Jan McConner, John Mlinarcik, Cindy Robbins, Freddie Spack and Richard Von Schoik.

Science students honored were: Ninth graders David Navoyosky and Jim Shasteen; eighth graders Charlotte Vaughan, Dave Sommers, George Zeller, Tom Vacar and Kathleen Thornton; and seventh graders Vernon Sproat, Claudia Volio and Gary Barker.

Betty Faye Culler, Beloit RD 2, was named defendant.

Mrs. Summers seeks $50,000 for personal injuries and Mr. Summers asks $10,000 for expenses and the loss of his wife's service.

The mishap occurred April 10, 1961, at intersection of S. Liberty and E. College St. in Alliance.

Minstrel Show At Lisbon Ends Tonight

LISBON — Two hundred persons attended the first showing of the 18th annual old-time minstrel of John J. Welsh post, American Legion, last evening in the Lisbon High School auditorium.

Dinsio Gets Out On $25,000 Bond

LISBON — Amil Dinsio, 26, of Poland, made $25,000 bond Tuesday at 3:45 p.m. on charges of carrying concealed weapons and possession of burglary tools and for extradition to Weirton W. Va., for robbery.

The Maryland National Insurance Co., agent Anthony Peco of Youngstown, put up the two $7,500 bonds on concealed weapons and possession of burglary tools, and addition of $10,000 for the extradition hearing in Weirton on burglary.

Two other Mahoning county men, Daniel Marshall, 33, and Harold Doiley, 32, of Youngstown, charged with the same offenses as Dinsio, made bonds Thursday furnished by United Bonding Co.

At an earlier preliminary hearing before County Court Judge Herbert Arfman, Dinsio's bond was set at $40,000 but Common Pleas Judge Raymond Buzzard reduced it to $25,000.

Dinsio had been free on bond from several area courts when arrested last week. In the trio's car was approximately $1,000 in currency and old coins, a couple of pistols, and a big screwdriver and wrenching bar.

Weirton authorities charged the three men with burglary as suspects in the armed robbery March 28 of Gene D. Costalas at his home in Weirton.
